Newsletter March 2022

Dear Friends,

As the days lengthen and the air warms, my heart is always filled with the wonder of spring. I love seeing the first shoots of crocus as they push through the soil. I have a small bird feeder next to the door we use to come and go. The birds have been crowding around it, getting a few seeds to help them on their way. The variety of birds stopping by seems to change over time. We have a table that our cat, Slava, loves to sit on to watch them through the window.

I am always full of plans and wonder at this time of the year. I am going to get the seed planted for sunflowers that I love. I will get peas in the ground on Good Friday as one of my parishioners from long ago assured me would provide the best harvest. I flip through the seed catalogs and think about a yard full of flowers and how I would love that. And then there is more snow. And I remember not to plant seeds too soon. And time slips by and it is July and I wonder what happened to my beautiful garden.

The really good thing about my failings is that I always get a chance for a do over. This could be the year that I get the flowers planted. This could be the month that I study something I have always wanted to learn. We belong to a God that is full of second and third and fourth chances.

During Lent we will be taking a journey with Vincent Van Gogh, and the scriptures, and our own experience. Van Gogh's work is so well known today, it is hard to remember that he rarely made any money from his painting. His brother, Theo, basically supported him with a monthly stipend. Van Gogh was a letter writer. We will meet him in his own words as we study during this season of Lent. There will be opportunities for conversation and gathering in person and online as we delve into the scriptures and his work. Please plan to join in what promises to be a season of beauty and wonder.

Maybe we will all be inspired to do the thing we have been pushing off to another time. The season may be right.

Blessings,
Cathy

NAP Lenten Services

Ash Wednesday is March 2nd. Island Presbyterian will host a simple supper followed by an Ash Wednesday service at 5:00 pm to help make our way into the Lenten season.

Riverside will have an Ash Wednesday service at 12 noon.

Island Presbyterian will host weekly soup lunches and conversation during Lent. Lunch will be at 12:15 on Thursdays during Lent, starting March 3. Everyone is welcome. We will discuss the weekly study questions in our devotional material -- Vincent Van Gogh and the Beauty of Lent. If you are not comfortable gathering in person or can't get away during the day, we will have a similar discussion on Zoom Thursday evenings at 7:00. Art and faith and beauty will draw us into conversation together.

Time to Spring Forward

Daylight Savings begins Sunday, March 13. Turn your clocks ahead one hour Saturday night before you go to bed to be sure you get to church on time. It is also a good time to check the batteries in your smoke detectors and carbon monoxide detectors.

Seeking to be an Anti-Racist: Living the Love of Jesus

So, what can I do?

To be anti-racist is to be an authentic part of the community of God, where everyone is recognized as carrying God's image. But, what can we do to help build this community?

First, we need to be aware of our prejudices, biases, and stereotypes. Do we make assumptions about those who are different than us? Do we expect certain behavior from someone because of how they look? We need to examine our assumptions. How stereotyped are they?

Second, learn about the effects of racism in our society. White people might like to assume that there has been so much change since the 60's that the average white person just doesn't need to concern themselves with racism. If that is your belief, you are encouraged to do some reading to understand the reality of racism in today's society and the damage it is doing. So You Want to Talk About Race by Ijeoma Oluo or The Sum of Us: what racism costs everyone and how we can prosper together by Heather McGhee are places to start.

Third, we all need to examine our privilege. Yes, we may be tired of hearing about privilege, but it is real. There are articles about White Privilege in the archived Presbytery newsletters. Or google: White Privilege: unpacking the invisible knapsack by Peggy MacIntosh.

Fourth, take some time to learn the stories of those who have not been included in most American History classes. For example, watch the PBS program "Slavery by Another Name" to learn some of the realities of Jim Crow or "Reconstruction." Learn the story of the Underground Railroad in our area at the museum in Niagara Falls or visit the Onöhsagwë:de' Cultural Center in Salamanca to learn about the Seneca people of Western New York who have two churches in our Presbytery.

This is a weekly feature by the Presbytery of Western New York's Anti-Racism Task Group. This task group is made up of Presbyterians who are seeking to grow in understanding of the issue of racism in our communities and churches. We seek to learn about the issues, listen to voices that need to be heard, and explore ways that we and others might respond to, and actively engage in the work of anti-racism.
